
Meet The Birdlady

Yes, The Birdlady of Easton is a real person, aka Mel Seip, who lives in Easton, PA. For many years she has had her own birds and prior to August 2006 had worked at a local bird store. Neighbors, friends and family began calling her The Birdlady and the moniker has stuck.

The need for a local, full service, pet avian supply store and her passion and love of birds prompted her to think about opening her bird store in the Easton area. After a number of people expressed that they were now buying their supplies online (and paying high shipping charges), Mel started doing a lot of research and making more inquiries. In June 2008, she decided to take the advice of family and friends and share her abilities with birds by opening a UNIQUE specialty bird store - Birdlady Of Easton.

Mel "The Birdlady" Seip with two of her avian friends.

From the begin her goal has been to provide not only well socialized and healthy hand-fed babies, but quality products (including ABBA, FM Brown, Kings etc) and personal service in a place where bird lovers as well as future bird lovers can come.

Some of our preferred products

ABBA PRODUCTS CORP.

Phone: 610-438-5472

Email: TheBirdlady@BirdladyOfEaston.com

A UNIQUE Specialty Bird Store

- Exotic Birds
- Bird Supplies
- Bird-Boarding
- Bird Grooming

Mel "The Birdlady" Seip and her daughter Melissa (Pet Avian Photography by Melissa) with two White Bellied Caiques.

1704 Washington Blvd.
Easton (Wilson Boro), PA 18042

Phone: 610-438-5472

E-mail: Melissa@BirdladyOfEaston.com

Website: BirdladyOfEaston.com

A UNIQUE SPECIALTY BIRD STORE

SERVICES

Bird-boarding

There are many reasons you may need to remove your bird from your home for a day or longer.

Some typical reasons are:

1. You need to travel
2. Home repairs, remodeling or interior painting projects
3. Family vacations

Although boarding your bird can be stressful for both owner and pet alike, sometimes it is the only way to keep your avian companion safe while you're away. And although you may be tempted to ask a family member or maybe a friend to look in on your him or her, boarding may be the better choice. Many times those you ask to bird-sit may not have the necessary experience or time required to take care of your loved one.

I spend a lot of time with the birds and provide a lot of interaction, which helps with the adjustment of being out of their homes. I suggest that you try to make your baby as comfy as possible with familiar toys, and diets although I do use quality ABBA seed and pellets and will be more than happy to provide these for your bird. I do not supply toys for boarding birds, however bird toys are available for purchase. If your bird has a familiar cage that is easy to transport it is also a good idea to allow your bird to board in his own cage.

Grooming

No Appt Necessary

Wing Trimming

To be safe, all caged birds should have their wing feathers trimmed. The main reason is to prevent your bird from being able to fly high or fast, which can be dangerous (for everyone) inside your home. Wing trimming merely makes his or her playtime safer when outside the cage. With the flight feathers of both wings trimmed, if the bird takes flight for any reason, its descent to the floor is balanced and somewhat controlled. Please call me for Wing Trimming rates.

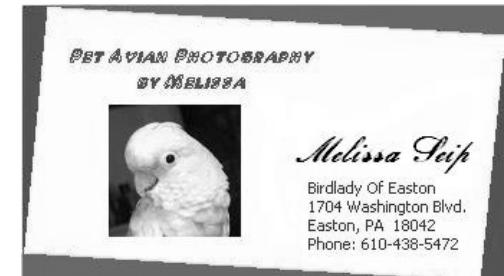

Nail (Claws) Trimming

If you've ever been scratched by a bird's nails (claws), you know how sharp and painful they can become! Most caged birds need their nails trimmed periodically. In the wild this occurs naturally on hard uneven surfaces such as rocks. But in their cage the surfaces on their perches, bars etc are all very smooth and do not allow your bird to do this self-care. Overgrown nails will make perching difficult for your bird and trimming can also help prevent foot problems..

If you notice you pet's nails are longer or tend to "really dig in" when you are playing; it may be time for a trimming. Please call me for Nail Trimming rates.

Beak Care

I believe BEAK CARE is an important task best done by your avian veterinarian.

Melissa has developed a very special ability to have your bird "pose" for the camera. While other bird stores offer pictures of birds, Melissa brings a whole other level of photography and creates a work-of-art for you to cherish for years to come. Some of Melissa's work has been displayed in the Gallery at the Family YMCA of Easton, Phillipsburg & Vicinity in Easton, PA.

Pictures are normally available within five business days. Melissa offers a wide range of styled frames in different sizes. For those ordering multiple pictures and sizes, Melissa offers a special priced package.

Please contact Melissa by email or call the store and leave Melissa a message.

1704 Washington Blvd.
Easton (Wilson Boro), PA 18042

Phone: 610-438-5472

E-mail: Melissa@BirdladyOfEaston.com

Website: BirdladyOfEaston.com